

Derek asked how can we help both sides? When someone is going through a crisis, how can we make sure right people are called? Are we asking the right questions?

Becky would like to know whether Carver County police have had CIT training. A speaker from the police department was suggested.

Derek asked if there is a CPR class to help people dealing with a mental health crisis. NAMI offers such a course, called "Mental Health CPR".

Ana reminded us that the Council is tasked to advise Commissioners on mental health needs in the community. Suggested more training to authorities on dealing with mental health and more publicity.

Becky suggested we ask the Commissioners to create a position to implement our recommendations which they have approved.

Becky noted that listening session attendance has increased, and hopefully It will continue.
